

Project 6

Course Code and Name: MSJ2102 Convergence Communication I

Project Name: And then, Princess Ariel has to nowhere to stay.

Project Type: Trashion Show

Project Theme: Resource Mobilization

Semester of Submission: Spring 2023

Project Description:

This project was a Trashion Show based on the theme Resource Mobilization. Our 8-member team created costumes using recycled waste materials to raise awareness about marine pollution and its harmful effects on marine life. The concept, "And Then, Princess Ariel Has Nowhere to Stay," symbolized how ocean pollution is destroying the natural habitat of sea creatures. I worked as one of the costume designers, where I helped design and create the costumes using waste materials. Through this project, we used fashion as a creative way to communicate an important environmental message.

Project Justification:

Marine pollution is a serious environmental issue that threatens marine ecosystems and biodiversity. This project used fashion as a creative communication tool to encourage people to recycle, reduce waste, and protect the ocean. It also showed how discarded materials can be transformed into meaningful artwork while spreading environmental awareness.

Theme
CI theme: (Write about the semester theme 'Resource Mobilization' in your language.) (50-150 words)	Resource mobilization raises awareness for a problem and increased public knowledge of a problem and the solutions being used to solve it. This semester we understood through this theme Social mobilization tries to organize the human, material, financial, and other resources necessary for socioeconomic growth while also empowering individuals and communities to define their needs, rights, and responsibilities.			01
Group/Individual theme: (What was your theme? Why did you take this theme?) (150-250 words)	Our project based on the animals and organisms under the sea are being harmed as a result of marine pollution through metaphors. The world ecosystem depends on the ocean. And if the ocean gets polluted the sea will become a huge dump yard. So it's our responsibility to protect our mother nature. We know the majority of the waste that ends up in the ocean comes from land and is washed or blown into it, which contributes to marine pollution. This pollution harms the ecosystem, the health of all living things, and global economic institutions. Oceans slowly decline over many years, using oxygen in the process, which reduces the amount of O₂ present. Sharks, penguins, dolphins, and other marine animals die because of low oxygen levels in the water. No marine pollution, please. Marine pollution			02 is severely harming our eco-diversity. In order to save our planet, we must get rid of marine pollution.

(Why and what kind of fashion did you want to do?)
(150-250 words)

"And then, Princess Ariel has nowhere to stay..."

(Mermaid)

(Trashman)

There will be a couple of models, where the female model will represent the ocean as a mermaid and the male model will represent pollution as a trashman. Thus our theme represents the polluted ocean, where the mermaid is a metaphorical symbol of the living objects of the ocean. The female model will wear a gown made of different kinds of trash such as, cotton bud, bottle caps, plastic, CD parts, net, straws, chips packets, foil paper etc. She will carry a crown on her head, necklace as well as earrings.

And the male model, who is representing pollution, will wear a jacket made of trashes like bottles' stickers, cans, newspapers, net, torn shoes, socks etc. He will wear a pant which will be embedded with medicine paper, one time cups/spoons, silver plastics etc.

This concept will showcase the pollution and the harm that is caused over the ocean.
